November Is Noted for Feast Days and Church Celebrations

November means to all Americans the month of Thanksgiving, but to the people of other countries, especially those of Catholic countries, there are many other feast days and sacrificial celebrations during this month. Many old customs, observed by the people of England and France during the Middle Ages, and even later, have now become only interesting legends, but others live in the holy days of the Catholic calendar. By the ancient Saxons, November was styled the "Wint-monat," or the winter-month, from the gales which were so prevalent in England at this season of the year, obliging our Scandinavian ancestors to lay up their keels on shore and refrain from exposing themselves on the ocean until the coming of better weather in the spring.

It also bore the name of "Blot-monat," or the bloody month, from the circumstances of its being customary to slaughter great numbers of cattle to be "salted" for winter use. The name also probably has reference to the sacrificial rites practiced at this time.

The first day of the month has been for centuries observed by the Catholics as All-Saints Day. It takes its origin from the conversion of the Pantheon at Rome, in the seventh century, to a Christian place of worship, and its dedication by Pope Boniface IV to the Virgin and all the martyrs. It is supposed to be a feast day set aside for all the saints. At first it was celebrated on May 1, but was later changed to November 1, and set apart as a general commemoration in honor of the saints. This holy day was retained by the Anglican Church.

November 2, All-Souls Day, was the feast day celebrated by the Catholic Church on behalf of the souls in purgatory. Masses were performed and prayers said for the release of these souls. The custom was said to have been introduced in the ninth century by Odilon, abbot of Cluny, but was not generally established until the end of the tenth century. It was customary on this day for persons dressed in black to walk up and down the streets of the towns ringing a bell at every corner, and calling upon the people to pray for the souls of the dead.

The ninth of the month has always been celebrated in London as Lord Mayor's Day, when the Lord Mayor of the city was inaugurated into office. In November 11, now observed all over America and Europe as Armistice Day, was celebrated by the Catholic Church in former times as Martinmas Day. This was in honor of St. Martin, famous in legend as the saint who divided his cloak with a poor beggar at the gate of Amiens. As this day comes during the hunting season in England, it has always been a time for great feasts. St. Martin is one of the best loved of English saints, and no less than seven churches in London and Westminster alone are named after him.

Two Convention Heads Have Been Guests of Stephens College. Dr. E. F. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Convention, left Tuesday morning for Albuquerque, N. M., where he will address the state Baptist Convention of New Mexico.

Mrs. Helen Barrett Montgomery, president of the Northern Baptist Convention, left yesterday for her home in Rochester, N. Y.

Doctor Mullins and Mrs. Montgomery had been guests of Stephens College for several days. The purpose of the visit was that the two convention presidents might know and report to their various conventions what Stephens College is trying to accomplish. With the coming of Miss Jessie Burrall last year the college started a new emphasis on religious training. It was felt that a visit from Doctor Mullins and Mrs. Montgomery would not only be an inspiration to the college in its work, but that these two influential people could offer some constructive criticism.

This is the first time that southern and northern convention presidents have met in conference.

C. H. Williams to Address Teachers. Prof. C. H. Williams, director of the University Extension Division will give the welcoming address to the annual conference of teachers of vocational agriculture at 9:15 o'clock tomorrow morning in the Agricultural Auditorium. He will talk on the general work of vocational education and its relation to other studies and to education in general. Following the welcoming address, Dr. J. H. Coursault, dean of the School of Education, will talk on "The Importance of Professional Training."

Land Assessment to Be Completed. The assessment of land in Boone County will be completed within the next few days according to W. E. Pace, assessor.

Can You Answer This Puzzle? 25 Prizes Given

Probably you know the names of most of the famous "stars" but just to refresh your memory, we mention below the names of a few of the most popular "movie" players.

To solve the Movie Puzzle, all you are required to do is to re-arrange the letters, so that they will spell the correct actor's or actress' name. No. 10 is Charlie Chaplin. If you can guess all ten you can win OAKLAND Automobile or $1,000.

ONLY 185 "POINTS" WINS AUTO

For each name that you arrange correctly, you will receive 10 "points" toward the OAKLAND Automobile, or the $1,000 prize. In all, if you arrange all names correctly, you can gain 185 "points" by "qualifying" your answers.

That is, by proving that you have shown a copy of Mother's Magazine to five people during this Big Puzzle and Advertising Campaign. The final 15 "points" will be awarded by three independent judges on the matinee, style handwriting, and spelling of your answers.

The answer giving 185 "points" (which is the maximum) will win the OAKLAND Automobile, or $1,000 in cash. Second highest will win $250, third prize, $100; and so on down the list of 25 prizes. In case of a tie, both winners will receive same prize. Send in your answers TODAY. As soon as your answer is received, samples will be sent. PRIZE to select you in qualification. Contest closes January 14, 1922.

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY—YOU CAN WIN

You will not be asked to subscribe to Mother's Magazine, nor spend one penny in order to win. We have given away THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS in prizes. May Merry, Fairmont, Nook, just run $1,000. You may be the next lucky winner. Write your answer to the Puzzle on one side of the paper, name and address in upper right hand corner. You can win—Answer the Puzzle NOW and send your solution to
